WOODHOUSE

"I never knew there was this much green in the entire galaxy" Rey

By TOM HEAP
Photos: ANDREW McGRIL, LES BUCKLE, and SUE DAY

Woodhouse is probably one of the few activities with no dust. There's sun this weird stuff called grass and there's a wide range of activities. The vibe of the whole thing is calm and relaxed. You see the Scouts walking to and from activities laughing and joking around with each other and deepening their comradery with their patrol. Woodhouse holds a wide arrange of activities from a tyre slide and an abseiling tower to catapults and pioneering races. There was also mud, not The Cube level of mud but still mud. Two Scouts, Ella and Kinga from C437, where dared to jump into the mud and promptly proved that mud can be fun to go for a swim in. There's also a Labyrinth where you have to search around in a maze looking for clues and trying to get as close to 15 points as possible. Noah from D540 really enjoyed the pioneering activity because of the rope maze where he got lost and his patrol got tangled up in all the ropes. The teamwork that Woodhouse's range of activities brings out in the Troops is phenomenal, everyone is cheering on their patrol and bringing the best out of each other.

WEEDY SWIMS (DANCES) THROUGH THE DUST

by MATT ELLIS

Scouts from around the world danced with Weedy the Sea Dragon at the at the SouthAustralia.com Arena last night – and it looked exhausting.

Weedy had a great time at the Cosplay and enjoyed meeting Scouts from all over the world.

"The Cosplay dance was amazing, and it was great to dance with all the Scouts in their costumes," said Weedy. "While I didn't like being attacked by Darth Vader and a Storm Trooper, it's fair to say I beat them both," said Weedy.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Is someone in your Troop feeling a bit homesick? Or maybe you are yourself? If you're feeling a bit low because of this remember to try to control your self-talk – the things you say to yourself inside your head. It's easy to tell yourself that you're miserable and not enjoying yourself. Instead, say to yourself something like, "I am safe and with people who like me and look after me. It may be somewhere different from usual, but it's a good place and somewhere I can have fun." Keep encouraging yourself – it works!

WHAT'S YOUR FAVOURITE ACTIVITY SO FAR?

Flick, D534

My favourite activity so far has been Metro Mania, because it was really chilled out and we got to explore Adelaide and have a rest day in the sun..

Ryan, D534

My favourite activity was probably Wood House I especially enjoyed Challenge Hill. There was real grass and I especially liked Challenge Hill and the team building My patrol were all laughing and joking and having a great time.

Lisa, D536

I really enjoyed Metro Mania I got to eat at Maccas for the first time in a few years and I enjoyed sitting on the beach with my friends. as the other Scouts around me"

Leo, C217

"The Cube was my favourite. I love to go climbing especially trees as they are free and I climb quite often so I didn't get too scared. But I was quite cautious of the mud, so I chose to not get into it

Beau, C532

"Probably Metro Mania, we did a dolphin cruise which was really nice and relaxing, and I enjoyed the free time we got to have with no leaders watching over us."

Wyatt, D648

"Probably Bang it's been my favourite because we got to destroy cars."

Here's where AJ2019 fits in Australian Scouting history ...
by KAREN MEYERS

The 14th Australian Jamboree was held at Cataract Scout Park in 1985/86, which was the first of four Jamborees to be held at Cataract to date. This was also to be the last Jamboree for boy Scouts as girls were allowed into the Scout section in 1988.

Fairies have landed at Allawah Mall on Tuesday night wishing every Scout there one wish, with Troop B757 dressing up as Fairies.

Henry who was celebrating his birthday said, "I wanted to have a fairy birthday party at Jamboree and I am thrilled to get one."

While Alicia said, "for our fairy night I didn't have to dress up to be a fairy as I'm a fairy everyday."

While most of the troop were happy to dress up as fairies some were not as keen, "I was forced to dress up as a fairy, however I'm happy that I did it" said Daniel.

BE PREPARED FOR FIRST AID

Zoe & Leon C326 Photo: Troop C326 JTL

by AMELIA JAMES

Zoe and Leon from C326 are ready for first aid! Zoe put her first aid skills to the test on Metromania. While they were on the tram, a woman passed out after donating blood earlier in the day. Zoe comforted the woman and made sure she was OK before another passenger, a nurse, took over. Later that day Zoe also treated a fellow Scout for a blood nose.

The next day it was Zoe's turn to get help after she suffered a reaction to an icy pole. There were no Leaders nearby, so Troop member Leon quickly stepped in to administer Zoe's EpiPen.

GETTING AROUND THE NEW PROGRAM

Ezgi and Dylan talk Jonathon and Ryan of D101 through the new program Photos: PATSY GUSSENHOVEN

by NICK BROWNE

The Scouts Australia New Program Space in Allawah Mall is the place to go for information about the new youth program. Yesterday, Ezgi and Dylan from the Space took Scouts Jonathon and Ryan from D101 through the changes they can expect over the next few years.

Both Jonathon and Ryan had expressed concerns about the new program. "I've heard there might be changes and the Australian Scout Medallion might be easier to get," said Jonathon. "I think it should be a challenge." The boys were also worried that Scouts and Leaders who don't like the changes will leave the movement.

Dylan and Ezgi explained the ideas and research behind the new program, as well as the three main components of the achievement pathways – the Milestones, Outdoor Adventure Skills and Special Interest Areas.

While Jonathon and Ryan were initially sceptical about the way the stages of the achievement pathways run from Joeys through to Rovers, Dylan observed that many Scouts who earned their Grey Wolf in Cubs talked about the way they went back to the beginning in Scouts and some of the Pioneer Badge was easier than what they had already completed.

"I know some people are concerned about the look of badges and so on," explained Dylan, "but our overall aim is the better Scouting experience the new program will offer."

The boys left the Space with many of their concerns addressed, although they weren't quite convinced about all of the details. "I still think the book should fit in your pocket," suggested Ryan.

If you have any questions about the new program, Dylan, Ezgi and the rest of the team at the Space suggest you pay them a visit.

New Fashions Emerge at AJ2019

by MATT ELLIS

As Jamboree continues the fashion trends become more and more noticeable with wristbands proving to be this seasons number one fashion trend.

Alex from Troop A107 has collected 33 bands so far this Jamboree and he hopes to collect many more.

"One of my friends was at the last Jamboree and he collected them and when I say his collection I wanted to have a bigger collection" said Alex.

In a message from the medical team they have asked everyone to not wear excessive amounts of wristbands and to not wear them all day.

Please have wristbands off while sleeping and for a few hours during the day to maximize your blood circulation.

AJ2019'S MUST HAVE

Jaxon, Jay, Ajax, and Alex, from Troop A107 were thrilled to get their hands on the Scouts Australia shirt logo badge

Words and Photo by MATT ELLIS

Every Jamboree there is a must have item and this Jamboree is no different, with the new Scouts Australia shirt logo badge the must have item.

The badge is back in stock at the National Tent after they sold out earlier in the week, but you better be quick because the stock is limited to 5 per person.

The new logo has been a hit with the Scouts with Ajax from Troop A107 saying "I love how it shows all the sections."

"I wanted to have the new Scouty look and being able to show it to all my friends after Jamboree" said Jaxon from Troop A107.

Buggy Brigade

by ASH MARKS

PHOTOS: COLLETTE LARK

For the length of AJ2019 the Tailem Bend Motorsport Park has been taken over by a fleet of vehicles of a different kind. Buggies, golf carts, whatever you want to call them, they've taken over the site. After all, we are a city, and that means a lot of people have a lot of ground to cover.

Buggies are the ultimate way to get around, but they can't run on fumes and, despite them ruling the roads onsite, they can't drive out of the main gates.

Harold Parslow, Transport Supervisor, had to get special permission to be able to take the buggies offsite once a day to refuel. The Buggy Brigade is escorted to the petrol station alongside the park where, two by two, each thirsty buggy is topped up. Once they're all quenched, the brigade is escorted back onsite, ready for another busy Jamboree day.

THE INCREDIBLE COVER'D

The Incredible's lead singer Jordan rocking hard at the main arena

Rock night lived up to the hype with not one but TWO epic bands rocking the main arena last night. Cover'd showcased the talents of Crafty, Rachel, Kane and Paul, while The Incredibles starred Jordan, Sam, Pete and Stuey.

The crowd had a blast rocking out with classic songs from Smash Mouth, Guns N Roses and 5SOS, and throwing frisbees back and forth with the band members.

Cover'd opened and warmed up the arena for The Incredibles to then take over, but both bands joined up to blow the roof off for the final set. "I should tell my wife I'm not completely hopeless," laughed crowd favourite Pete, the lead guitarist for The Incredibles, as he signed frisbees for lucky Scouts. "We've never done a show like this," said Sam, from The Incredibles. "But hell yeah, we'd do it again in a heartbeat."

THE THREE WOMEN WHO WILL LEAD ADELAIDE GANG SHOW

There's a revolution in Adelaide Gang Show in 2019 with an all-new female management team. But, before preparation for the show kicks off, they also have the tough job of looking after the Leaders' Lounge at AJ2019.

Alana Willett will be stepping into the Executive Director role, while Maddie Gray and Amber Wall will be taking on the Production Director and Technical Director roles respectively. It is the first time in the history of Adelaide Gang Show that these positions have been held by women.

"We are really looking forward to putting a whole new spin on what Adelaide Gang Show is all about," said Amber.

The show is putting a huge focus on being 'youth led adult supported' with their 20-person production team being youth members.

"It's great to be the first youth member to be Production Director and to lead a production team of youth members," said Maddie.

Dealing with homesickness

by SAMI LIGHTFOOT, Troop B544

Homesickness is a very hard thing to deal with. I'll tell you my story and give you a few tips on how to deal with it.

I was very excited to come to Jamboree and thought nothing of homesickness. Yet when I got here I suddenly started to feel homesick and had to work around it.

Here are a few tips to make your Jamboree experience a little brighter:

Firstly, keep busy all the time. Do extra duty patrols, activities, play cards or go to the mall where there is lots to do. You should try not to hang around alone or hang out in your tent because these things will not help with your homesickness. The less you think about your homesickness the better!

Secondly, meet up with any family members or friends who are at the Jamboree. I met up with my cousin Luke (shout out to Troop A536) and I felt much better after we had a chat.

Lastly, stay hydrated, eat lots of nutritious food and, most importantly, stay positive!

In conclusion, if you do all the things above you will feel a lot better. It worked for me.

How to know if you are homesick:

If you are homesick you will feel sad, you will want to go home and you might miss your family.

Buckley suggests saying something to your Leader. There are excellent people in your welfare team who are waiting to help you feel better and get back to having fun!

You've Got Mail

Photos: DAMIAN HUGHES

Wil, Brodie and Asher from troop B332 got a marvellous surprise when they were called to the Mawson subcamp HQ. There was mail for them to collect. Each of them received a parcel from home as well as a few more for others in their troop. "When it's sent by Mum you always know there's something good inside," said Asher. "I like what I received because it has food," said Brodie.

Jamboree mail is picked up from Taillem Bend each morning by Postman Paul. He then delivers it to each different subcamp where it is sorted and picked up by each troop. Mawson subcamp receives a full bag of mail (around 50 parcels) each day. If you want to send mail home, there is a mailbox at each subcamp HQ to post it.

GILWELL REUNION

On arrival the Leaders were met by the Phil Harrison, National Chief Commissioner, Dougal Mayor, National Commissioner Adult Training and Development and Harry Long, Chief Commissioner, SA Branch. Each Leader was presented with the new Centenary of the Wood Badge and a limited edition AJ2019 Gilwell Reunion badge.

Harry made a speech about how all Leaders are trainers of our youth and that the new Centenary badge is for all Leaders and not just for those that have completed their Wood Beads. He was proud that we at AJ2019 held the first Gilwell Reunion for the centenary year.

Dougal Mayor presented a narrative of how the Wood Beads came about. He stated that "every Scout deserves a well-trained Leader" and how BP spoke about "the importance of role models and practicing what we preach. So, 2019 is the 100th anniversary of that first course held at Gilwell Park and to recognise this milestone we want to celebrate 100 years of great training."

Phil then spoke to the crowd about how we all need to assist with teaching the new YPR and assist with training the next generation.

Two new Wood Beads were presented to Cheryl Brady and Chris Wise as they have been promoted into the National Training team. The Beads were presented by Simon Fredrick, Training and Program Support – SA Branch.

The Centenary of the Wood Badge badge will be available to purchase online for $2 or at the National Program space.

BADGE SWAP

by PATRICK MORGAN

The Australian Badge Club has a display here at AJ2019, in the Allawah Mall. The Club provides the opportunity for Scouts to learn how to swap badges fairly.

Ann from the Badge Club shared a few quick tips on badge swapping etiquette:

- Swap badges one for one.
- Make sure swaps are of equal value, for example:
 - One District badge for one District badge
 - One Contingent badge for one Contingent badge
 - One event badge for one event badge

International

Scouting is a world wide movement and AJ2019 is enriched by the presence of 18 international contingents. From Tonga to Austria our overseas friends have made a huge contribution to the success of the Jamboree. This edition of The Daily Bunyip celebrates the international contingents with stories on pages 5, 6, 7 and 8. And tomorrow look out for our wrap on tonight's International Night performances at the SouthAustralia.com Arena!

INDONESIA RAYA!

by AYDIN and EWAN, A541

Troop A541 has been hosting six Indonesian Scouts for the last few days. Hafiz, Daffa, Ahmed, Sadya, Naufal, Syawqi and their leader Muhammad have become great contributing members of the Troop. When asked about the Troop, Hafiz answered, "It's great. Everyone is very nice. They are all close and have good friendships and everyone is friendly."

They knew more about us when they arrived than we did about them, but after some time we have learned so much from them. We have also taught them a lot about Australia and Scouting here. Patrol members, Xavier, Paddy and Rhys have taught them many games like "the Game", which they are trying to take world wide.

Overall, having our Indonesian friends in the Troop has been great and we have all really enjoyed ourselves.

DOWNLOADING FRIENDS

Jamboree of the Air / Jamboree of the Internet (JOTA/JOTI) is the largest Scout event in the world. Held on the third full weekend of October every year, it allows Scouts from all over the world to meet and connect with each other, both through amateur radio and over the internet.

Back at JOTI last year, Sumayet of Troop B104, from Bangladesh, and Aeryn of Troop A434, from WA got chatting on Scoutlink, an online chat service for Scouts. They started out in a chatroom, with many other Scouts, before moving into a direct person-to-person chat. Sumayet got very interested when Aeryn mentioned he was from Australia, and told him she was coming to AJ2019.

After JOTI, Sumayet and Aeryn kept in touch, talking over email and Google Hangout. They asked about each other's countries. Sumayet liked learning about Vegemite, Lamingtons and Pavlova from her new Australian friend.

On Wednesday, Sumayet said she was "very excited" to be able to soon meet Aeryn, saying that she had been "waiting (for all of the) three months since JOTA". Accompanied by The Daily Bunyip, she arrived unannounced at Aeryn's Troop Site shortly before dinner, much to his surprise.

Once he recovered from the surprise, Aeryn said he was "happy to have met" Sumayet face-to-face. Sumayet said it was "very amazing meeting a friend".

Why not talk to your Leaders about taking part in JOTA/JOTI with your Scout Troop? You could be part of the next great international Scouting friendship!

Tutira Mai Nga Iwi

by ASH MARKS

Things are heating up as International night draws closer and our friends who have travelled far and wide prepare to amaze us with performances that capture their homelands.

It's our cousins from across the ditch in New Zealand who allowed us the special pleasure of joining them for their final Haka rehearsal before the big night.

The haka is a Maori traditional dance, that also serves as a challenge. Each member of the New Zealand contingent will take place in the performance, which was put together by the Scouts themselves.

Some of the Scouts learn Maori culture at school and they were able to teach the others. The story they chose, Tutira Mai Nga Iwi, is about coming together and forming close friendships, which is perfect for AJ2019's #friends4life theme.

Without wanting to give too much away, the performance will include the NZ national anthem (which they actually rehearsed on the flight over!), and the Haka itself, which is a call and response led by Gareth and Keegan respectively.

It's sure to be a memorable night!

GATEWAY CHALLENGE

by PATRICK MORGAN

The Scout TV team is running a gateway challenge! To enter, just take a photo of your whole Troop outside your gateway, and then post the photo to either Instagram or Facebook, with the hashtag #AJ2019Gateways. Make sure to include your Troop number, and some brief details of your gateway. The top 10 entries will be visited by the Scout TV team, and interviewed for the Scout TV channel. They will also be featured in The Daily Bunyip! Entries close at 9 am Sunday January 13, so don't miss out!

Contingent Rivalry

by ALBERT LEE

Contingent rivalry is a long-standing tradition, starting off with Western Australia and Queensland. The Leaders at the Queensland found out that undies have been taken off their clothes line and tagged with 'G'day from WA'. The culprits who committed this crime are obvious. At midnight, Queensland quietly snuck to the front of the WA Contingent and fruited their boob tree with fake pineapples in an act of revenge. A Leader from WA riddled, 'An Eagle swooped in and grabbed the undies, but a Brumby got creative.'

With both Contingents on edge, nobody knows who will strike next.

Hey Big Spender!

by CHLOE TYRRELL

As the Scouts continue to venture into Adelaide, some seem to be getting more into the spending spirit than others. The boys of C664, Dylan, Tyler and Brendan all together spent over $400 in the city. Sporting branded bum bags, shoes, hats, and shirts, we wonder what reaction the lads will get when they return home.

ATAS VIP Meet and Greet

The Association of Top Achiever Scouts (ATAS) is a worldwide Scouting fellowship group of Scouts and Scouters who have achieved the highest rank of youth in their Scout Associations.

Camp Chief, Harry Long would like to invite all King Scout, Queen Scout, BP or equivalent International Awards or ATAS Members to join him for an evening gathering.

Please come by and join us:

Friday 11th January, 9.00pm to 9.45pm, VIP Tent

You will be able to join ATAS on the night and receive the ATAS Badge. A group photo will also be taken on the night. We look forward to meeting you.

One time at the camp site, we were told to wash our hands, so I dipped my hands in a bucket full of blue glittery water and started eating. It turns out one Patrol all had blue glittery hair from hairspray and everyone had washed their hair in the same bucket. OOPS!

My name is James and I attended Full Throttle. This afternoon while I was in a car, the driver drifted and we drove off the road onto the dusty road next to it. I felt surprised but mainly exhilarated. I have never been in a racing car. It was really fun and exciting and way different than video games.

There once was a Jamboree site With so much rock that the Scouts got a fright But so resourceful Scouts are That with inclusive care That rock has helped out with our camp. All this rock everywhere is great because it works really well with our home Troop thing. Whenever anyone calls out 'Rock formation' everyone ducks down and pretends to be a rock. When anyone yells out 'boulder' everyone joins in a big group hug.

Nic from Troop D430 is an avid badge collector, and had an unfortunate mishap with some of his badges getting stolen. However, luckily, his friends helped replace them. Nic has two messages: "when life gives you lemons, life can also give you candy". Also, "to the people who stole my badges, you helped me get another one". I went to the International Hub and did a quiz. The questions were exciting and challenging and I got every question right. When I presented it to the marking lady, one of the questions, she said that not many people get that one right

When my Patrol went to Wet 'n' Windy and one of my Patrol members dipped their feet in the water while we were relaxing, and something bit her foot. It turned out there were carp in the water. The rest of the day we all tried to fish for carp, and we made a fishing line with our shoe laces and a safety pin.

While walking down the Glenelg jetty in Adelaide, a beloved fedora was snatched by the wind and sent to the water leaving our Troop in tears. A true bond between Scouting and the public showed through when a man kindly took to the surf to return our fedora. (the fedora now remains with its rightful owners)

This is how I met my best friend Patrick. In Cubs, I was selling raffle ▶

Oskar and Anthony 'banded' together to collect around 116 wristbands. It was a bit of a 'stretch' but eventually they got there. They kept trading and annoying fellow Scouts for free wristbands, they then sorted them out into piles and all the scouts in our troop said it was very impressive. Hopefully they are breaking a world record and we hope they will continue to collect them.

On the pre-Jamboree camp, one Patrol chose the name Tetanus Gang, then another Ebola Cereal, and the disease theme rapidly spread through Troop B650. The obvious choice for the troop emblem and badge was the bio-hazard symbol.

6 people who Don't want to leave

Declan, C102

If there was grass I would stay forever.

Declan, C770

I don't want to go, I'm having too much fun. I loved rock climbing at The Cube.

Nathaniel, C102

I don't want to leave because I get birthday cake and a card.

Molly, D535

So much fun! It's all action with new friends, and camping.

Matthew, C548

My Scout buddies love me more than my own family.

Tom, D322

I'm having an amazing time. There are so many people and activities, with not enough time to do it all. With no screens it's great to get back to nature.

MIKE MEETS HIS WATERLOO

Mike Patten – former Chief Commissioner of Tasmania, and current Branch Commissioner for Water Activities – has a proud sailing record. He can boast that in 40 years of sailing he's never spilled the patrol boat. Until AJ2019. He met his Waterloo at Wet 'n' Windy at Wellington.

Old Man Jefferson

Round the blazing council firelight, it's time to gather closer for Skip's Yarn. We need to talk Thrifty. Like our support for the environment, Scouts were early adopters of conservation. We patched tents, we whipped the ends of frayed ropes, we repurposed old male Commissioners. Times have changed and some States are awash with recycling money. We're becoming a disposable society (except for old male Commissioners). The lads tell me that "upcycling" is a hip and groovy new term for reusing things. So I challenged the Court of Honour to come up with ways that we could be Thrifty. Ideas include:

- Taking home some Elwomple rocks to extend the Rover den.
 - Shaking out the tents and dining flies when we get home and selling the result as landscaping gravel.
 - Replacing the Sorbent with back issues of "The Daily Bunyip".
 - Using the Pigeon Patrol's sneakers as an alternative to chemical pest control.
- Some people think I'm a bit of a traditionalist but I'm actually comfortable with change (as long as it doesn't impact on old male Commissioners, of course).
